RoE expanded by over 2ppt, with FY24 ending on a firm footing.

- We leave our estimates for FY 25 and FY26 unchanged, despite the small Q4 EPS beat (3% vs ACe), +35% y/y, and +18% q/q, as we expect investment income to normalise. We expect an EPS growth of 14% in FY25e and a 16% 5-year EPS CAGR.
- In Q4, the solid performance was supported mainly by the treasury and proprietary segment, up by c. +12% y/y, and improved performance of commercial banking, up +177% y/y for Q4 24, partly offset by higher variable compensation. This lifted the RoE to 12% in FY24 vs. (10% in FY23A), though still shy of its long-term targets of 16%. Capital ratios slipped y/y because of the growth of the loan book, locking in prevailing rates.
- We maintain our BUY on broad-based RoE expansion, de-risking, and growing AuM base, up 10% y/y to USD 22bn. The stock trades at P/tNAV 25e of 1.1x while offering RoE of >11% and a DY of 5.2% (to be paid semi-annually as of 2025). The next catalysts are IB expansion, recovering commercial banking performance (on lower CoF), interest rate cuts, and potential KSA cross-listing. Our TP remains at USD 0.41/AED 1.51, with our roll forward impacted by higher RWA intensity.

We pencil in an EPS CAGR of 16% for FY25-28e after 10.8% EPS growth in FY24, with RoE expanding from 9.6% in FY23, 12% in FY24 to 16% in FY28e. EPS grew by +10.9% y/y in FY24, mainly driven by higher income from the treasury and proprietary segment, which surged +70% y/y to USD 347m for FY24, supported by a significant uptick in proprietary investment income (USD 127m FY24 vs. USD 37m in FY 23) and the sale of assets, primarily real estate (USD 92m in FY 24 vs. USD 8m FY 23). The IB remains crucial to revenue generation, accounting for 24.8% of total revenue in Q4 24, increasing +34% y/y to USD 47m. Meanwhile, the commercial banking segment, representing 19.4% of total revenue in Q4, recorded a +177% y/y increase, benefiting from strong loan growth and margin expansion at Khaleeji Bank despite higher funding costs.

Reallocation of its portfolio, targeting a RoE expansion to 16% in the medium term. The loan book increased by 33% y/y and 1% q/q from 1.5bn to almost 2.1bn, while the treasury book dropped 5.5% y/y, though it recovered 7% q/q. GFH's proprietary investment book contracted 21% y/y to USD 779m, led by a 50% reduction in Tier-1 instruments (USD442m FY24 vs. USD827m in FY23) as the group realised investment gains, optimising its balance sheet. Offsetting this, equity-accounted investees rose 17% y/y to USD160m, reflecting a strategic shift. GFH increased its exposure to listed securities as its investments increased by 472% y/y to USD81m FY24. GFH's real estate-heavy investee mix continues to provide earnings stability, with Infracorp's total assets growing 38% y/y to USD 2.27 bn while earnings expanding 21% y/y to USD 55m.

Ambitious targets on track. GFH continues to expand its assets and AUM base, reaching USD 22bn in FY 24 vs USD 20bn in YE23bn and USD 17.6bn in FY22. GFH is on track to achieve its USD 25bn target by YE25e through organic and inorganic growth, reflected by the launch of GFH Partners, a dedicated global real estate investment arm with USD 6.5bn in assets and AUMs across the US, GCC mainly (KSA & UAE) and Europe. GFH group through partners and PE successfully closed 13 investment banking deals and concluded three transactions: i) Student housing assets worth USD 300m, ii) Launched the US$96 million US AI Infrastructure Fund building on opportunities in the rapidly growing digital real estate sector, and iii) Launched the £44 million UK Food Logistics Fund which is involved in acquiring a 780,000 square-foot distribution center in bridge water.

Low loan loss coverage reflects strong collateral: Stages 1, 2, and 3 loans make up 83%, 9.9%, and 7.24%, respectively, compared to 74%, 18%, and 8% at YE 23A. Coverage ratios remain suboptimal, with i) Stage 3 coverage at 27.2% for FY24 (vs. 32.5% in FY23), ii) Stage 2 coverage at 5.9% for FY24 (vs. 9.0% in FY23), iii) Stage 1 coverage at 0.2%, broadly stable. Based on our stress test, which is 1% of stage 1, 12% of stage 2 and 60% of stage 3 indicate a provisioning gap of around c. USD 21m, at 1.9% of NAV and 1.02% of its loans.

GFH's USD 3.58bn Sukuk book remains largely investment-grade, with 94% of holdings classified as Stage 1 & 2. The Stage 3 sukuk exposure is minimal at USD 3.5m and is fully covered (100% provisioned). GFH benefits from being domiciled in Bahrain, as Bahraini sovereign Sukuks held in its treasury portfolio are assigned a zero-risk weight under regulatory frameworks. The zero-risk weight reduces the GFH's risk-weighted assets (RWA), which supports an uplift in treasury income by a lower capital charge.

Capital ratios remain robust despite 16.4% higher RWAs: GFH operates at CET1 and CAR of 16.4% and 17.03% FY24, respectively, compared to 19.74% and 20.98% at YE23. RWAs increased by 16.4% y/y in FY24, mostly related to increased risk-weighted credit assets such as financing contracts, which increased by 33% y/y. The asset/equity ratio is 11.25x while net loan/equity remains 6.6x. GFH reported an NSFR and LCR of 137% and 195%, respectively.

The CoF for quasi-equity is elevated at 6.8% on the back of higher allocation of NI to Quasi-Equity shareholders: Net income attributable to Quasi-Equity surged +78% y/y to FY 24 to USD 202.3m, driven by higher allocation to quasi-equity shareholders despite a decline in -14% y/y for the quasi-equity funding base. We continue to see elevated funding costs due to the participating nature of quasi-equity, which constitutes 27% of total assets. At the same time, we see it as a strong earnings cushion for GFH.

Maintain Buy at TP of USD 0.41 or AED 1.51/share; we highlight GFH as an attractive RoE expansion story, potential cross-listing in KSA, and a cash dividend yield of 5.2%, now paid semi-annually. GFH offers a RoE of 12-16% in the medium term through i) lower finance costs on deleveraging quasi-equity, ii) lower interest rates, iii) gradual improvement in the deal flows, iv) regulatory arbitrage, benefiting from zero risk weighting for its high yielding treasury book of USD 4.8bn. GFH trades at FY 25e P/E of 10x and P/B of 1.1x.

The next catalysts are expanding the IB platform and recovering commercial banking performance (on lower CoF), interest rate cuts, and potential KSA cross-listing.

Target Price and Rating

We maintain our BUY rating on GFH with a revised target price of AED 1.50. GFH profitability improved in 4Q24 primarily driven by strong growth across all segments partially offset by a lower income from the Commercial Banking segment. GFH completed 13 investment banking deals in 2024 along with several well-timed exits from investments. The Group also completed the sale of its education platform and achieved an early exit from its joint investment in Citrix, 18 months ahead of the planned three-year period. Additionally, GFH exited real estate assets from its proprietary portfolio. Furthermore, regulatory ratios, including CAR, LCR, and NSFR, remain strong and well above the required thresholds. The Company continues to expand its investment portfolio globally by strengthening its access to the US markets and leveraging industry growth in the GCC, particularly in the UAE and KSA. Khaleeji Commercial Bank launched its digital banking platform "Hafeez" that offers new services to streamline procedures and improve efficiency. GFH's sustained profitability ensured stable dividend payments, proposing 6.02 fils per share for 2024, with a dividend yield of 5.3%. Additionally, the board proposed paying semi-annual dividends from 2025. Thus, based on our analysis, we maintain our BUY rating on the stock.
